Hi All,

Happy Holidays! I cannot help but think how fast time has moved this year! It seems like yesterday, I was coming through the door, not fully understanding the "big shoes" I had to fill! I soon learned!! You have all been and continue to be great teachers to me and I look forward to continuing to learn even more from you. I could not do this job without the help and wisdom of the great COA staff and the amazing volunteers, who serve us. They cook, serve, and feed us. They clean up after us so we can do this again the next day. I am grateful to the program planners, who work so hard to get folks out and about.

We also have excellent support from the COA Board, the Friends of the COA and the town administrator. Special thanks to the town hall staff, the DPW, Police and Fire department and all those unnamed folks, in the town, who always rise to the occasion to help us with whatever we need.

We cherish the memories of the friends we lost this past year and welcome the opportunity to make new friends.

It's a time of year to honor traditions and all beliefs. We continue to strive to be a welcoming community that opens its doors to those who want to be part of this wonderful group.

I thank you again from the bottom of my socks, because from the bottom of my heart is just not deep enough!!

I wish you and yours a blessed Merry Christmas and a very Happy New Year!!

Stay well
Mary

Volunteer of the Month

Heather Johnson

On a particularly unseasonably warm day in 2016, Heather decided to take the long way back to the New Hampshire Seacoast from Boston. When she took the wrong turn off the Rotary, she said "where the heck did this come from" as she wound up on the Causeway and made her way to Nahant. She has lived here ever since.

Heather grew up in Chelmsford, but later relocated to rural Illinois where she taught Special Education students and raised and trained horses on her 21 acre farm for 25 years. Longing for New England, she retired and returned home.

Heather's passion has always been caring for nearly every animal known to mankind as a wildlife rehabilitator and humane society investigator. Heather enjoys gardening, birdwatching, weather watching and puttering around her house. She is enjoying her retirement, sleeping late, the ocean and her two crazy cats.

She especially enjoys volunteering on Fridays at the Council on Aging.

Thanks Heather for all that you do to help our seniors.

Christmas and the Holidays are Upon Us

Suddenly another holiday season is here. We have already been hearing holiday music and seeing purchasing ads for a while. Most of us look forward to the holidays, but for more people than we might think, the holiday season can bring sadness and even depression.

Especially as we get older, we may have memories of loved ones no longer with us; an empty seat at the table. This can certainly bring on feelings of sadness. It is now well recognized that colder weather and early darkness can bring on depression. This is called Seasonal Affective Disorder, or SAD. It is no surprise that this disorder is more prevalent in New England than in Florida.

Some of the symptoms are sadness, fatigue, anxiety, lack of interest in activities, decreased appetite or possibly over eating. Many people deny feelings of depression to their family and even to themselves, and avoid addressing it with their doctors. Serious or long-term depression should definitely be discussed with your doctor, but for milder cases related to the holidays there are some things you can do for yourself.

First of all, don't stay in bed. Get up and get dressed even if you have no place to go. Exercise and sunlight can be key to Seasonal Affective Disorder. Good nutrition is also essential. Think about going out for a haircut or a manicure and pedicure. Go to Lunch at the Tiffany Room and talk with old friends.

Call old friends on the phone. They may be feeling as lonely and sad as you might be and it would make their day to hear from you. Christmas cards can still be fun to write and certainly fun to receive, even in this day of email. If shopping for family is too difficult and online shopping also overwhelming, gift cards or cash might be the way to go. I myself have wrapped cash in a box just for the fun of opening boxes. Set up some decorations for yourself, even if small, they are manageable that way.

The COA is a great place to reach out to. Lunches are available as are manicures, shopping trips, and other activities that are scheduled especially during the Christmas season. The COA is a place you can find people to talk to and laugh with. Yes, don't forget to laugh.

Keep your health a priority. Especially if you will be around other people, make sure you get your Flu and COVID shots. We are hearing on the news about many people, children especially, that are sick. So, make sure you protect yourself. There is still time to do this.

And don't forget to practice Gratitude. On a sad day, make yourself think of three, or maybe five, things you can be grateful for, and do this every day. Even if we have lost someone, focus on the good memories of having had that person in your life. Our lives are still very rich. Even though we may not be able to physically enjoy the Christmas or Holiday season by getting out as much as we used to, we can bring some holiday to our homes.

Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays
